VIRGINIA CONFERENCE.

Will Convene in Norfolk Next Wednesday at 9 A. M.

Sessions to be held in Cumberland Street Church—Bishop W. W. Duncan to Preside—Opening Sermon by Rev. R. H. Bennett—Other Features.

Next Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock the Virginia Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will convene in this city at the Cumberland Street Church in its one hundred and eighteenth annual session.

A deep and absorbing interest is being manifested by thousands in this section, as it will bring into their midst large numbers of divines whom they have known in past years as pastors, as well as others whom they have also known as Methodist itinerants in Virginia. Bishop W. W. Duncan, so well known here, will preside over the conference. The Bishop was in former years pastor of Granby Street, now Epworth Church, and the Methodists of this city and section will be glad to welcome him among them again. He will be the guest of Mr. Walter J. Simmons, Bank street, during the sessions of the conference.

As stated in a former article, the conference will be composed of 277 ministers and about 50 lay delegates, and a number of superannuated ministers. Many of the preachers and laymen will be accompanied by their wives, and, besides, there will be other visitors, and the population of Norfolk claims the visit of the conference will be largely augmented.

Rev. R. H. Bennett, of Richmond, a former pastor of McKendree Church, this city, or his alternate of Brunswick Circuit, will preach the opening sermon.

The members of the conference will be entertained principally in Norfolk, while some will have homes in Berkeley and Portsmouth. The delegates will be furnished with dinner at the hotels.

It is not believed that there will be many changes in the appointments of the ministers now in this section. As it is likely, however, that there will be some changes in the formation of the Norfolk and Portsmouth districts, so as to throw all the Norfolk churches—now partly in each of said districts—into the same district.

At the close of the conference Rev. Dr. John Hannon, one of the ablest ministers in Southern Methodism, and who was formerly a member of this conference, will resume his membership in it, and take an appointment in Virginia again, at the close of the session. He has been in California for some years.

Rev. Dr. W. M. Lefkovich, of Nashville, Tenn., an well-known here, will attend this session of the conference, coming here from Baltimore, where he has been conducting revival services.

MR. R. C. DUNN DEAD.

HEAD OF THE COMMERCIAL AGENCY OF DUN & CO.
Mr. R. C. Dunn, senior member of the mercantile agency of R. G. Dun & Co., died yesterday morning at his home in New York city. He was a prominent figure in the business world for nearly half a century. He was associated with the agency since 1851; in 1854 he became a partner, and in 1855 purchased the entire interest, since which time he was at the head of the firm. Mr. Dunn first became connected with the business it was in its infancy. Its wonderful development and growth was due largely to his individual efforts and entire application to the ever-increasing needs of management.

His antecedents were Scotch. His father, Robert Dunn, migrated to the United States in 1815, and settled in Chillicothe, O., where he married Lucy Ann Angus, also of Scotch parentage, where Mr. Dunn was born in 1825. He took advantage of such means for education as were afforded, and at the age of 16 began his business career in a country store at $2 per week. His reason for his application for business was energy and thoroughgoing practical ways, he soon became a partner in the business. He removed to New York and secured employment in the mercantile agency then conducted by Tappan & Douglass. Here his talent for details was recognized and constantly advanced, until in 1854, when he became a partner with Mr. Douglass under the firm name of R. C. Douglass & Co. In 1859 he purchased the interest in the business held by Mr. Douglass, realizing that there must be one controlling head to make an enterprise successful. Since that time he was the sole proprietor of the agency. During the past twenty-five years he has been associated with his present partner, Mr. Robert Dunn Douglass, who is a nephew, the latter having direct charge of the agency departments in this and foreign countries.

When Mr. Dunn became associated with the mercantile agency in 1851, three years prior to the time he became a member of the firm. It was at once noticed that the scope of the agency was being constantly enlarged, and in 1859 seventeen branch offices had been established. This number was increased by ten branches up to 1870, and by forty-four branches in 1890. Since then the number has been further increased, until the year 1900 there is a total of one hundred and fifty, thoroughly and regularly equipped, in one hundred and fifty cities, including those in Europe, Australia, Hawaii and the islands of the Pacific, and is steadily increasing its volume of business. The last edition of the firm's reference book contains the names of about 1,300,000 traders of the Continent.

Football Next Thursday.

The Atlantic City football team and the "Virginians" will meet on the gridiron next Tuesday at the League Park. These teams played an interesting game last season, neither side scoring. Both teams have been considerably strengthened since that time, and, as both claim the superiority, a pretty game may be expected. Game called at 3:30.

FRATERNITY NOTES.

The past week was a big one in Royal Arcanum circles in this section Wednesday night. Ocean Council, of Portsmouth, initiated a large class and six new applications were received. Harry Kemp, D. G. R. of Virginia, was present; also visiting members from Shockoe Council, of Richmond, and Pocahontas Council, of Norfolk.

Pocahontas Council, of Norfolk, is the largest Royal Arcanum Council in Virginia. Thursday night a class of twenty were initiated, and the Council has about twenty-one more applications on file. Messrs. Harry Kemp, D. G. R., E. E. Davis, and Lewis S. Mayo entertained the Council with instrumental and vocal selections. Mr. Kemp will spend the next four weeks in the Tidewater section aiding the different Councils.

At a recent meeting of the railroad lines interested in the transportation of exhibits to be on display at the exposition in Charleston, an agreement was reached authorizing the free transportation to and from Charleston of any State, municipal, or county exhibit from States or counties in which the several lines operate. Such transportation will be allowed on a certificate of the Commissioner of Agriculture, or other properly authorized State or county official, that the exhibit is one collected under the auspices and control of the State or county. Such exhibits may embrace only the unmanufactured products of the fields, mines and fisheries within the State or county.

WITH THE RAILWAYS.

A Revival of Business is Experienced Since the Election.

A New Set of Rules Governing Outbound Baggage—Transportation of Exhibits at Charleston Exposition—Footlocks on Trains—Notes.

Railroads are already beginning to experience revival of business as the result of the passing of election day. A Presidential election always causes more or less depression in transportation circles. It was as noticeable this year as usual.

OUTBOUND BAGGAGE.

The Richmond Dispatch of yesterday says: The Atlantic Coast Line, Seaboard Air Line, Southern, Chesapeake and Ohio, Fredericksburg and Western and Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac have agreed upon a set of rules governing outward bound baggage which will interest the traveling public. A circular notice just issued announces that outward baggage received at the station baggage room of any one of the railroad companies in the agreement must have attached either the proper check to destination or a claim check issued by the railroad company, or a claim check issued by any transfer company or individual doing transfer business in the city, the issue and form of which is narrated by the free transportation provided for that purpose at the station baggage room. The rules governing storage charges on other baggage will apply to baggage bearing claim checks.

CHARLESTON EXPOSITION.

At a recent meeting of the railroad lines interested in the transportation of exhibits to be on display at the exposition in Charleston, an agreement was reached authorizing the free transportation to and from Charleston of any State, municipal, or county exhibit from States or counties in which the several lines operate. Such transportation will be allowed on a certificate of the Commissioner of Agriculture, or other properly authorized State or county official, that the exhibit is one collected under the auspices and control of the State or county. Such exhibits may embrace only the unmanufactured products of the fields, mines and fisheries within the State or county.

NOTES.

It is not improbable that the dinner to be placed on Atlantic Coast Line trains between Richmond and Washington may be picked up as far North as Philadelphia and taken as far South as Weldon, N. C., an improvement even greater than was first anticipated.

It is not improbable that two or more of the railroad lines running into Richmond will soon adopt the custom of the Boston and Maine, following the example of Northern roads running into large cities. The shins cost only 10 cents, and the boys are uniformed by the company.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company will be held at the office of the company in this city on Monday, the 19th instant.

The Chesapeake and Ohio has secured the contract to transport a large consignment of shells from the Norfolk navy yard to Mars Island, Cal.

Norfolk Advertising Writer Complimented.

Watt, Rettew & Clay's (Norfolk, Va.) ad. of September 23 is before us. It is good—very good. Pleasant to look upon, easy to read, entertaining and newsy, it commands praise.

Perhaps the Watt, Rettew & Clay advertisement would favor his fellow toilers with copies of the work. Ask him—you readers—and if he can spare you a copy of this ad. of September 23d you'll learn something about the art of condensation in writing and about clean and clear typography. — Dry Goods Examiner.

This is the second time recently that this authority on advertising has favorably criticized Mr. Yeager's work. Mr. Yeager has recently opened an office at 100 and 102 Granby street and will devote his time to writing advertisements for those who desire his services. Mr. Yeager writes business bringing ads. and we commend him to all in need of assistance in this line.

Rev. Sam Jones to Lecture Here.
"The Battle of Life and How to Win It" will be the subject of Rev. Sam P. Jones at the Academy of Music next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Class No. 1 of the Cumberland Street M. E. Church. The proceeds will be devoted to the building fund of the new edifice now in course of erection, on Freemason and Cumberland streets.

The subject selected has been pronounced by the thousands who have heard it the greatest of the gifted teacher and lecturer's productions. The language Mr. Jones employs is the cream of the natural dialect of the common people of the South, and he uses it most effectively. "As I remember," and an orator he stands as a peer among the most brilliant attractions upon the American platform, and his striking personality is such as to give him a charm of which none but Sam Jones can ever expect to be master.

You feel like it sometimes, don't you? It says, "My, but you are growing old fast." You know why: it's those gray hairs. Don't you know that Ayer's Hair Vigor would restore color to them, all the dark, rich color they used to have? It stops falling of the hair also, and makes the hair grow long and heavy.

If you do not believe, send for a bottle of the Vigor. Write the Doctor about it. He will tell you the right thing to do. Address, Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.
